ELECTION SOLUTIONS

Preparing for an election requires attention to hundreds, if not thousands, of details. As a leader in election material translation, CTS LanguageLink understands the requirements for accurate translation of voter information guides and other election-related materials. We take care of all the translation details and deliver on-time.

Since 1993, CTS LanguageLink has continued to refine its production workflow to translate, format and print sample voting pamphlets for election offices around the country, delivering extremely specialized state, county and district specific voting guides in an increasing number of languages. Although turnaround times are often very tight, we have never missed an election-related deadline. Our growing list of election clients attests to the strong reputation we have built as one of America's most trusted translation resources.
